

All You Can Post from Beyond.com

With Q4 in full swing, 2012 budget planning is on everyone's minds and activity levels are extremely high. This is the time of year when competing resources are evaluated and strategies are developed, presented, and finalized.

With continued economic uncertainty, companies are asking their agency partners to be creative, doing more with less. At Beyond.com, we understand this market reality and have developed a solution to help stretch these limited budgets. Our 'All You Can Post' Solution is an unlimited posting program that offers an extremely compelling and cost effective solution for organizations who recognize the vital importance of passive, niche recruiting, but who may have limited resources.

The All You Can Post program is a comprehensive 'hands free' niche posting solution that ensures strong niche coverage for all of a company's jobs at an extremely affordable rate. Based on average annual posting volume, the All You Can Post program allows companies to post ALL of their jobs ALL year long for a low fixed rate. The best part is that we are able to wrap the jobs and automatically distribute them to all relevant communities on a daily basis, guaranteeing that those jobs will be accessible to candidates within the most targeted and relevant communities within the Beyond network.

Be sure to inquire as to how your clients can take advantage of this extremely cost effective solution today. Once we know your clients average posting volume, we will turn a quote around as quickly as possible, usually the same day.

For any pricing information, please contact Chris Billetz, Director of Agency Relations at 866-694-5627 or 610-883-0148 or via email at ChrisB@Beyond.com.

Thanks for your continued support. We look forward to hearing from you!
